There are two main types of data that can be used to estimate the parameters of a model: observational data and experimental data. Observational data are collected from subjects in their natural environment, while experimental data are collected from subjects in a controlled environment. Both types of data have their own strengths and weaknesses, and the choice of which type to use depends on the research question and the resources available.

RANDOM NOTES

Dear Parents, Friends, and Faculty,

This year's theme for the 1989-90 yearbook is "Building The Leaders of Tommorrow." This theme was chosen because it best describes our future, as the leaders of the United States. "Who knows, one of Briscoe's alumnus may become a President of the United States."

Your three years at Briscoe trains you for the high school, which later trains you for the best school, life. Our future, the 1990's, begins here.

The eighth graders must feel very relieved, and somewhat disappointed, that we're leaving Briscoe. We really grew up here. Briscoe is like our second home, and the thought of leaving it, and going to someplace bigger, terrifies some of us. The Class of 1994 came to Briscoe as young, shy students. We're leaving, ready to handle the responsibility of maturing into young adults. Thank you, Briscoe!

The '89-90 year had many tragic, stunning, sad, exciting, new, and disappointing events. The death of a close friend to many, Marcia Biancardi, stunned everyone. The retirement of Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, and the return of Larry Bird, disappointed and excited many people. The 1989-90 year brought forth new talent, like New Kids On The Block and Paula Abdul, and reintroduced the legends, the Rolling Stones and Janet Jackson.

The entire 1989-90 Briscoe Middle School Yearbook Staff wishes that you will thoroughly enjoy this yearbook. We'd like to thank Mrs. Carnes and Mrs. Fall for their overwhelming patience in putting this edition of the yearbook together.
